Your Year on the Trail

Trails for everyone. Built because of supporters like you.

2026 was a big year. You helped open The Flow at Eons Adventure Park, start construction at Jamestown Pike Park, and build a dream of a braided trail network in Northern Kentucky. Trails connect us to nature, and that access is made possible because of supporters like you. Thanks for celebrating with us!

OUR MISSION

Cincinnati Off-Road Alliance is a nonprofit organization dedicated to bringing joy, health, and wellness to our neighbors by building connected, sustainable, world-class trails in Greater Cincinnati.

Trails powered by connection.

Trails make Greater Cincinnati a happier, healthier place to live and raise a family. On any given day you'll find bikers, hikers, runners, families, beginners learning skills at our bike parks, and visitors from across the region who make a day of it, all sharing the same trails.

You believe trails are for everyone, and you see the good they provide and how they bring us together. That's why we do what we do. Our trails stretch across Greater Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky, and we're helping lead the plan for a braided trail network in Northern Kentucky. A professional crew and skilled volunteers collaborate in building and maintaining these trails, with parks and cities as our partners.

Trail work moves in phases, starting with planning and funding. Once those are in place, construction moves fast. With each phase in motion, projects build momentum. By 2030, we're aiming for 375 miles of connected, accesible neighborhood trails, 14 neighborhood bike parks and skills courses, and 4 large-scale egional bike parks.

There's no magic endowment or corporate donor paying for it all. It takes all of us to keep this dream alive. The pages that follow show what you built in 2026, and where it goes next.

TRAILS YOU OPENED

"The Flow" at Eons Adventure Park

On August 27, the City of Erlanger cut the ribbon on The Flow. There's a kids' area with low wooden platforms, a pump track, a beginner skills course, and a 1,000-foot jump line with rollable tabletops. A first-timer and a ripper can share the same afternoon, which is community in enjoying the outdoors.

CORA was there from the start, helping plan The Flow about three years ago. We partnered with the City of Erlanger and Innovative Dirt Solutions to build these world-class trails, and your support carried them from an idea to opening day.

The Flow is the first piece of a much bigger plan at Eons, a planned 1,000-acre adventure park minutes from the airport. It joins a growing list of places you've helped open, from Avoca and Sargeant Park to the bike skills parks at Mt. Airy, Mitchell Memorial Forest, and Nighthawk.

Northern Kentucky Regional Trails Plan

Led in collaboration with Tri-State Trails and OneNKY Alliance, this plan includes a braided network of paved and natural-surface trails across Boone, Campbell, and Kenton counties. More than 500 neighbors helped shape it, and the OneNKY Connector Route is an early step toward it. Now the work is turning the plan into trail, and that's where your support comes in.

02 »

Jamestown Pike Park, Dayton, KY

This fall, our crew built new walls and bridges along the trail. Fifteen new trees also went in, thanks to our friends at Ingage Partners. Jamestown Pike Park is a key connection on the OneNKY Connector, a planned signed route from Erlanger to Fort Thomas that links seven Northern Kentucky cities to grocery stores, schools, parks, and business districts.

Clear Creek Bike Park, Anderson Township

Phase I is fully funded through $380,000 in state capital funding plus site grading from the Anderson Park District, with construction starting soon. Phase I brings jump lines for teens and adults, right off the Little Miami Trail. Phase II is designed to open the park to every age and ability, and we're ready to put new funding to work to move it forward faster.

Fox Ridge Park, Kenton County, KY

Kenton County broke ground this fall on Fox Ridge Park, turning the former Fox Run Golf Course into a 225-acre park with mountain bike trails and a pump track planned. CORA is lending its trail expertise to help shape a system that works for hikers and bikers alike.

Goltra Preserve, East Westwood

CORA is partnering with The Hillside Trust, Groundwork Ohio River Valley, and the East Westwood Improvement Association to bring approximately 3 miles of trail to Goltra Preserve, designed to reconnect neighborhoods split by I-74. The Hillside Trust's project won a $10,000 Impact 100 grant this year.

Stonelick State Park, Clermont County, OH

Volunteers built 200 more feet of trail in October, and ODNR is funding the next phases of the 9.4-mile loop around the lake, expected to finish in 2027 and 2028.

YOUR SUPPORT AT WORK

Your $1 puts $12 of trail in the ground

Today, progress moves forward for trails across two states, alongside volunteers and trail advocates like you, driven by five full-time CORA staff and nine board members.

CORA plans and builds trails that cities, parks, and the state help pay for, and our crew and staff are what bring those partners to the table. That's how every dollar you invest in them unlocks twelve dollars in trail construction. Companies pitched in too: Fecon donated a grapple that speeds up the heavy lifting and saves the crew's backs.

$1.15M toward trails

KEEP THE PROJECTS MOVING

Will you help build the next mile?

Through December 31, every gift to CORA is matched dollar for dollar, up to $100,000, thanks to friends of CORA who want to see Greater Cincinnati grow into a trail destination. Imagine the opportunities you can unlock for you and your neighbors with a gift of support.

Give at coratrails.org/donate

WHERE THE TRAIL GOES NEXT

Ohio River Way Highbank Trail West

A 5 mile off-road trail along the hillside above Route 8 for safer accessibility, needing $600,000 to fully fund.

Clear Creek Bike Park, Phase II

Opening the park to every age and ability. The full vision needs $1.29 million.

Goltra Preserve

Over 3 miles of trail in East Westwood, about 12 months to build once fully funded.

Join us in building 375 miles of shared-use trail by 2030, including 14 bike parks and skills courses, and trail access close to home that connects communities.
